

THE COMMONWEALTH.

FRANKFORT.

THOMAS M. GREEN, Editor.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 1860.

To Members of the Legislature.
Extra copies of the Daily Commonwealth, put up in wrappers, ready for mailing, will be furnished at 2 cents each, and extra copies of the Weekly put up in wrappers at 4 cents each.

Gentlemen wishing extra copies of either the Daily or Weekly will please leave their orders beforehand at this office, or with JOHN M. TODD, in the H. R., or G. W. LEWIS, in the Senate, Reporters for this paper. Orders for the Weekly must be left by Saturday evening of each week, as it is published on Monday; and for the Daily the day before the publication of the paper which is wanted.

Kentucky Institution for the Blind.
Mr. PATTEN, the Director of the Kentucky Institution for the Education of the Blind, will give an exhibition of the attainments of his pupils in the Hall of the House of Representatives this evening, commencing at 7 o'clock.

Those of our readers who are sincerely desirous that the morals of the slave population of Kentucky may not be infected by the introduction of vicious slaves from other States, will regret that the bill to repeal the law of 1833 passed the House on yesterday. The only hope for the maintenance of the law as it now stands on the statute book is in the Senate, which body we trust will perform its legitimate functions in placing a conservative check upon the action of the popular branch of the Legislature. We are confident that the repeal of the law is not demanded by the interests of the slaveholders of Kentucky, nor by their well matured wishes. The specious pretense under which the repeal of the law has been urged, that it will diminish the value of slaves, is not only the ideal of absurdities, but, if true, constitutes a good reason why it should be promptly resisted by the slaveholders, the value of whose property is to be injuriously affected by the repeal. But it will have no such effect. The price of negroes in the cotton States is so much greater than it is in Kentucky, that the negro dealer, who naturally seeks the market where his human merchandise will bring the most money, will pass by this State and go further South. It is not to be expected that valuable slaves will be brought from the South to Kentucky, to be sold here for less than they will bring at home, with the loss to the dealer of the cost of transportation. Kentucky yearly sends thousands of slaves to the South, and one great cause of this is, that they are worth more there than they are here. The laws of trade will necessarily prevent the importation of any considerable number of slaves into Kentucky from other States. But there is one class that will be brought in; the vicious, unmanageable, insubordinate slaves of Virginia, will be brought in by the negro dealers, who, like buzzards, hover about to speculate in such carrion. The diseased and crippled who are unfit for the labor of the South may also occasionally be introduced. But does Kentucky need or want such refuse as this? Does not a proper regard for the interests of the slave holder, in times like these, imperatively demand that the greatest care shall be taken to exclude refractory slaves, promoters of drunkenness, theft, arson, murder, and insurrection? It is to be hoped that the Senate will perform their duty to the slave holder, and to the helpless women and children in this matter, by retaining upon the statute book a law which renders it necessary for every person who brings a slave to Kentucky to first assure himself of his docility and general good character.

The following notice of Mr. GILBERT'S Pianos, appeared in the St. Louis Bulletin, of December 5th. These Pianos will be offered at public sale in this city, in a week or so, by C. T. WORLEY, Auctioneer.

PIANOFORTES.—Of the many manufacturers of Pianos, none stand higher in the estimation of the musical world than those of Lemuel Gilbert. They combine all of the latest improvements, and for purity of tone and elegance of finish, they are unrivalled. Mr. Gilbert's rooms are No. 95 Chestnut street, opposite the Court House, where he has one of the finest assortments of Pianofortes ever brought into the Western country, which are offered to the public at a great bargain. Every Piano is warranted to give the utmost satisfaction. All are invited to call and examine these beautiful instruments. They must all be sold immediately; the proprietor is leaving the city, and will close the store he now occupies in two or three days at furthest. A large lot of excellent piano stools are also offered for sale cheap.

The peculiarities of the female constitution and the various trials to which the sex is subjected, demand an occasional recourse to stimulants. It is important, however, that these shall be of a harmless nature, and at the same time accomplish the desired end. Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters is the very article. Its effects in all cases of debility are almost magical. It restores the tone of the digestive organs, infuses fresh vitality into the whole system, and gives that cheerfulness to the temperament, which is the most valuable of feminine attractions. The proprietors feel flattered from the fact that many of the most prominent medical gentlemen in the Union have bestowed encomiums upon the Bitters, the virtues of which they have frequently tested and acknowledged. There are numerous counterfeits offered for sale, all of which are destitute of merit, and positively injurious to the system.

Ladies Fair.
The Ladies of the Methodist Church, of this city, will hold a Fair, on the nights of Thursday and Friday, Jan. 19th and 20th, in Odd Fellows Hall, on Broadway street, for the benefit of their Church. We hope they will be largely patronized, as this object is a benevolent one.

MADISON COUNTY SALES.—Richard Q. Davis of this county recently sold his Silver Creek farm containing 286 acres, ten miles from Richmond, to Elias Moberly and James Moran for $75 per acre, and purchased a farm of Thos. Woods, two miles from Danville on the Lexington turnpike, containing 263 acres at $65 per acre. The Boyle farm is said to be one of the best improved farms in Kentucky.—Richmond (Ky.) Messenger.

Correspondence.
FRANKFORT, 12th Jan., 1860.
W. H. WADSWORTH, Esq.,
Dear Sir: The undersigned, members of the Opposition party of Kentucky and friends of the Union of the United States, respectfully solicit you to address the people of this vicinity upon the great issue between the Opposition and Democratic parties, at such time as may suit your convenience.

Very respectfully, &c.,
J. W. RITTER,
GEO. M. THOMAS,
T. H. CLAY,
R. A. BUCKNER,
and many others.

FRANKFORT, January 16, 1860.
GENTLEMEN: The request from so many distinguished and patriotic "members of the Opposition party of Kentucky, and friends of the Union of the United States," to address the people of this vicinity upon the great issues between the parties, is esteemed by me no ordinary honor.

I am prevented, however, by paramount and prevailing considerations at this time from complying. Notwithstanding, I beg you to rank me most heartily with the "members of the Opposition party of Kentucky," as one ready upon all proper occasions, to the fullest extent of his humble ability, to defend the principles and promote the success of that party.

Its principles have always existed, and must be eternal as human nature. The opposition of conservatism to radicalism has marked, will ever mark the conflicts of society.

With what great advantage to the State and the nation our party has hitherto resisted Democracy, you all feel the present confessions, and that history will celebrate. The days of its power in Kentucky constituted the golden age of the State, whence she has derived that illustrious character at home and abroad for valor, for eloquence, and for statesmanship, which still shines with diminished lustre. It was distinguished then as now, for its opposition to this same Democracy. Its ideas of government and liberty, though deeply imbued with the philosophy of history, were all American. It loved the ancient Constitution and the ancient manners, and viewed with aversion and alarm the ceaseless assaults of Democratic change. Its devotion to the Union was unqualified and unquestioning. Its affections were representative of its principles. It preferred Washington to Jefferson, Clay to Jackson, Webster to Hayne. The present disastrous condition of the country attests its wisdom and invites its ancient supremacy. Its partial defeat at the late elections only appeals to our patriotism and pride of manhood to prove our devotion to the cause, more than ever necessary to the welfare of the country.

Every true Kentucky conservative, under whatever specious pretext his allegiance may be challenged by it, must now and forever, as I acknowledge myself bound to do, stand in bold and uncompromising opposition to this Democratic party.

I rejoice that there is not one disunionist in the ranks of the Kentucky or South American opposition. The many thousands in our section who love the thought, and covet disunion as a blessing, are found in the Democratic party—many of them in the leadership; and like their fellow traitors of the other section, have imbibed the treason from the same fountain—the pernicious doctrine which teaches contempt for the authority of the courts, and the right of States to nullify obnoxious acts of legislation. Many others of our opponents, in place and out of place—Governors, Senators, Legislators, resolution writers, and village politicians, calculate the value of the Union—make it dependent upon the success of a party; specify contingencies on which it hangs, and otherwise qualify their devotion to it or tolerate its temporary continuance. I view it as an affair of fate for all time, come woe or woe! I do not wish written on our flag "those words of delusion and folly, Liberty first and Union afterwards," but "that other sentiment," "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable."

When the race shall prove so false to the sacrifices of the past, the hopes of the future, and the fate and fame of liberty throughout the world, as to blot out the American Union, God will blot them out from the face of the earth as unworthy to dwell upon his footstool.

I never anticipate this last evil as befall mankind. But I trouble you too long.

I propose the following sentiment to the Opposition of Kentucky:

The fraternity of the people North and South, "the surest guarantee of Liberty and Union: its restoration is the only true statesmanship."

I have the honor to be, with great regard, and very cordially, your friend and obedient servant,
W. H. WADSWORTH.

To Messrs. J. W. Ritter, Thos. H. Clay, R. A. Buckner, George M. Thomas, &c., &c.

Colonization Meeting.
The Kentucky State Colonization Society will hold its Annual Meeting, on the 28th of January, 1860, in the Representative Chamber, at 7 o'clock, P. M. The public are invited to attend. The annual address will be delivered by the Hon. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS, of Paris, Ky.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.—Mr. Woodman, who, as we have it from the Dayton (Ohio) Empire, was attacked with hydrophobia, and was not expected to long survive, died on Tuesday night. The Journal gives the following particulars of the melancholy case:

Mr. W. seemed to be in the possession of his faculties, spoke of his approaching death with calmness, receiving his friends with much warmth of feeling, soliciting the prayers of every one, saying that he trusted God had forgiven him his offenses. He died, as already stated, at 6 o'clock last evening.

He suffered terribly during the continuance of the spasms, which came upon him at intervals, and as he felt them coming on, called upon his sons to hold him, but never manifested the slightest disposition to do violence to any one, but, on the contrary, showed the most affectionate disposition toward any one who approached him. During most of the time from Sunday morning till Tuesday night he paced the floor of his room, conversing with his family and friends, and assuring those about him that they might approach him without fear, as he would not injure them.

When, to test beyond the possibility of a doubt the nature of his disease, a glass of water was brought to him, he uttered a most unearthly shriek, and was seized with a terrible spasm. Mr. Woodman was a powerful man, and it was feared that his sufferings would be greatly protracted, but they were mercifully shortened, and he lived but three days after the development of the fatal malady.

Decision of the Court of Appeals.
(Reported expressly for the Commonwealth by JOHN M. BROWN, Attorney-at-Law, Frankfort, Ky.)

NEWBY & TAYLOR, vs. HILL & MILLION, } Opinion.

An attachment sued out by the appellees against Lear was levied, among other things, on a debt due from Jackson to Lear for land—Jackson admitted his indebtedness to Lear, and professed his readiness to pay the amount to such person as the court might adjudge entitled to it.

The appellants, Newby & Taylor, were made defendants, and they, by cross petition, claimed that they, with Halthman, had become bound as securities for Lear in a note for $410 to G. B. Million, and that, before and at the time of the execution of the note, Lear agreed with them that they should have the debt on Jackson as an indemnity for their suretyship. This agreement is proved substantially by the testimony of Lear and Million.

The court below decided that the appellees acquired under their attachment an equity superior to that set up by appellants to the debt in question, and the cross petition was dismissed. Judge DUVALL delivered the opinion of the Court.

It is laid down by Story, Eq. Jurispr., sec. 1047, and sustained by numerous authorities cited in the notes, that in order to constitute an equitable assignment of a debt or other chose in action, no particular form is necessary. Any order, writing, or act, amounting to an appropriation is an equitable assignment of the fund. The reason of this is, that the fund being incapable of manual possession, and not assignable by law, an appropriation is all that the nature of the case will admit, and this will be held good in equity. Such an appropriation may be made by parol as well as by deed. The validity of a parol assignment and appropriation of a fund in payment of a debt, to the assignee, was decided by this court in Perry vs. Stevenson, &c., M. S. Opinion, Winter Term, 1858.

Although in that case the debtor assented to the appropriation, this did not strengthen the equity. The assent of the debtor is not required. The creditor has the right to dispose of his property in the debt as he may choose, and to require the payment of the debt to any one whom he may direct, without any consultation with the debtor. (Story Eq. Jurispr., sec. 1057.)

If Lear might have made a parol assignment of his debt against Jackson, in payment of a demand against himself, he might certainly have made such an assignment as an indemnity to his securities. The considerations are equally meritorious, and this court is aware of no rule of law or policy forbidding a parol assignment in either case.

If the assignment to indemnify had been made in writing, no question would probably have been raised. It would not have been necessary to have recorded such writing; for it has been expressly decided that the statutes requiring the recording of mortgages, &c., of "real and personal estate," do not embrace choses in action or claims for debts. (Bank U. S. vs. Hark, 4 B. Mon. 448.) Nor is this decision affected by any provisions of the Revised Statutes. An equity acquired by an assignment, either parol or recorded, will prevail over any subsequent equity to the same fund, even though acquired without notice of the previous assignment. The appellees were, therefore, not injured by the failure of the appellants to reduce the assignment to writing.

In a contest between mere equities, that which is prior in time must prevail. Such is the contest in this case. The appellees, as attaching creditors, acquired only an equitable right to the debt in the hands of the garnishee. This equity is subordinate to that acquired by an assignee whose equitable right was created before the commencement of the action. (17 B. Mon. 630, and subsequent cases to the same effect.)

The equitable right of the appellants in the debt due from Jackson to Lear having been created before the commencement of the action, must prevail over that created by the attachment in favor of the appellees.

The appellees themselves rely on a parol assignment of the debt in contest from Lear to them, for the purpose of indemnifying them as his securities in a note to J. Halthman. But the proof shows that the agreement between Lear and Hill, (one of the appellees,) was made prior to the execution of the note, and was conditional in its terms. Hill did not become bound as security for Lear until after the execution of the assignment to Newby and Taylor, and a parol equity is in the appellants.

The court below also erred to the prejudice of the appellants in failing to render judgment in their favor against Halthman, who was a defendant in their cross petition, and failed to answer though served with process. He was liable to the appellants to the extent of one-third of the debt they had been compelled to pay as securities, with Halthman, to Million.

Judgment reversed, and causes remanded for further proceedings as indicated in this opinion.

DIRTY BOOTS.—A curious termination of an intended marriage took place at Halifax on Sunday week. On that day Henry Graves, of Mount Tabor, and Mary Mitchell, of Gibbet street, in that town, had arranged to be married at the parish church. The wedding party met before the ceremony at the Spotted Dog Inn, in Gibbet street, and proceeded thence towards the church. When they arrived at the inn, named the Ring of Bells, the bride found fault with her intended husband for not having his shoes clean! They, however, pursued the journey, but so shocked was she on going along the aisle of the church in company with the dirty boots that she renewed the complaint, and setting at defiance all remonstrance, left the church and returned to be married. Dinner had been provided for sixteen and tea for twenty. After the return of the wedding party, the proportion of expenses to be borne by each party formed a further topic of dispute. The disappointed bridegroom refused to pay anything unless he had the ring, which cost him 10s. returned, and then declined to contribute more than one half. The final issue will probably have to be decided in a court of law.—Leeds Mercury.

The Bank of Ashland has declared a dividend of five per cent. for the past six months.

A CARD TO THE SUFFERING.

The Rev. WILLIAM COSGROVE, while laboring as a missionary in Japan, was cured of Consumption, when all other means had failed, by a recipe obtained from a learned physician residing in the great city of Jeddo. This recipe has cured great numbers who were suffering from Consumption, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Coughs, and Colds, and the debility and nervous depression caused by these disorders.

Desirous of benefiting others, I will send this recipe, which I have brought home with me, to all who need it, free of charge.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of mere assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to re-energize the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhoea, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany.

For sale by all Druggists in FRANKFORT, Kentucky, December 9, 1859-1.

THE KENTUCKY FARMER.

Only One Dollar Per Annum!!

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE!!!

The First Volume of the "KENTUCKY FARMER" closed with the June number, and the Second Volume will commence in July. We promised a year ago to try and give to the Agriculturalists and Stock Raisers of Kentucky a paper worthy of their patronage. We put the question now to every one of its patrons: Have we redeemed that pledge? Have we given you a fair equivalent for THE DOLLAR which was paid for the KENTUCKY FARMER? If so, let every one of our present subscribers renew their own subscriptions, and try and send us one or more additional names for the SECOND VOLUME.

The receipts for the First Volume have about paid the expenses of its publication. We promised our patrons that we would publish ONE VOLUME whether we obtained a sufficient amount to pay its expenses or not. The publication of the June number has redeemed that pledge. Shall we have the kind and continued support of its present patrons, together with their aid in extending its circulation? If so, we promise to do everything in our power to make the paper worthy of a generous Kentucky public.

The "KENTUCKY FARMER" will still be published monthly, in its present form of sixteen large quarto pages, for ONE DOLLAR per annum, payable invariably in advance. As the small amount charged for the paper will not justify the trouble and expense of collecting subscriptions, no paper will be forwarded unless paid for in advance.

Subscriptions can be forwarded to us by mail, at our risk. Letters addressed to us need not be registered. S. Simply address

A. G. HODGES, Frankfort, Ky. June 15, 1859.

M. D. & W. H. M'HENRY, ATTORNEYS AND LAND AGENTS, DES MOINES, IOWA.

PROPOSE to practice in the various Courts of Polk county, and in the Supreme Court of Iowa, and the United States District Court. They have also established a General Agency for the transaction of all manner of business connected with Land Titles.

They will enter Lands, investigate Titles, buy and sell Lands, and invest money on the best terms and on the best securities.

They will enter Lands in Kansas and Nebraska Territories, if an amount sufficient to justify a visit to that country is offered.

The Senior partner having been engaged extensively in the business of the law in the Courts of Kentucky for nearly thirty years, and the Junior having been engaged in the Land Business in Iowa for eight years past, during which time he has made actual survey of a large portion of Polk and adjoining counties, they feel confident they will be able to render a satisfactory account of all business entrusted to them.

They will enter Land with Land Warrants or Money, upon actual inspection of the premises, and will buy and sell Lands on Commission, upon a careful investigation of title. Persons wishing to settle in the State can find desirable farms and city property for sale, by calling on them at their office in Sherman's Building, corner of Third Street and Court Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa. [March 11, 1857—1.]
